

Here's what some of our contributors say about the Wexner Center.

The Wexner Center is unique in its creative arts programming, bringing a global perspective to the Columbus arts community. This partnership has always been a natural fit for us, as Resource Interactive shares the center's commitment to creativity and innovation. We look forward to the years ahead!

Nancy Kramer

As the local hometown bank, Huntington is committed to improving the quality of life and promoting diversity in the communities in which we work and live. Huntington has a long history of supporting the arts in Columbus, and we are pleased to continue our partnership with the Wexner Center.
