WEXNER CENTER OFFERS NEW EDUCATOR MEMBERSHIP LEVEL

Underscoring its ongoing and deep-rooted commitment to the educational community, the Wexner Center for the Arts has announced a new membership level just for school teachers, professors, and school and university administrators. The Educator Membership, in effect today, is $40 a year, and includes all of the benefits that Wexner Center members receive but at a significant discount.

“We are delighted to offer an economical membership opportunity specifically for teachers, professors, and their administrative colleagues,” says Wexner Center Director Sherri Geldin. “We hope that this new membership level will help to foster even greater interaction between the educational community and the Wexner Center, and that it will help to make them aware of the rich resources the Center offers to teachers across multiple curricular subjects and multiple grade levels.”

Benefits of the Educator Membership, which apply to two people in the same household, include advance ticket sales and discounts on performances; discounts on film tickets; invitations to members-only events; savings at the Wexner Center Bookshop and Café; and the latest information from the Wexner Center mailed and e-mailed to members.

To join, the public can call 614 292-1777 or visit www.wexarts.org/mem.
