

WEXNER CENTER HOSTS EDITORS OF DIRTY FOUND MAGAZINE

"Dirty Found is art—filth folk art that proves everybody's sex life is secretly touching."—filmmaker John Waters

Columbus, OH— Lusty love letters, frank photos, dirty doodles, and other bawdy finds will be the topic of choice when FOUND Magazine creators Jason Bitner and Arthur Jones stop by the Wexner Center Film/Video Theater on Tuesday, May 8 at 6 pm to celebrate the release of DIRTY FOUND #3 with the DIRTY FOUND Outreach program. DIRTY FOUND #3 is a collection of "found" items that offer an alternately humorous and touching look into real people's real love lives. This event is for mature audiences only.

The hugely popular FOUND Magazine collects and publishes all sorts of things that people have lost or abandoned—old letters, illustrations, shopping lists, and more. Bitner and Jones are currently touring the country with the DIRTY FOUND Outreach Program, which offers up an eccentric power point presentation the audience won't soon forget. Attendees are encouraged to bring their own "dirty finds" and join the DIRTY FOUND Outreach Program fun. For more information on FOUND and DIRTY FOUND, check out foundmagazine.com. The latest issue of DIRTY FOUND can be purchased at the Wexner Center Store.

Tickets are $5 for the general public and $4 for students and Wexner Center members. Tickets are available now at the Wexner Center Ticket Office or by calling (614) 292-3535. More information on this event can be found at wexarts.org.
